

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The present invention relates to a method and system for selecting a wine either alone or on a shared basis at a site location such as a restaurant by an auction process at the site through an on line system local to the site.

The present invention permits a diner at a restaurant to order a beverage such as a bottle of wine, to be served to the diner in its entirety or a shared basis with others.